

AT THE LANE

Lois Lane Package

hey friend...

Remember when people used to gather around the table on a Saturday afternoon, for no real reason at all? Or the fun birthday party you went to that felt creative and original? Or how seen you felt attending a holiday party despite there being a crowd of people?

Those have always been the best kinds of gatherings, in my opinion. The ones I remember for years and the feelings I try to consistently replicate. Being welcomed to a strangers table, thoughtfully celebrating a friend, having deep conversations over bread + olive oil, watching someone light up as they share about their passion.

Intimate gatherings have become a rarity as busy schedules, social media comparisons, party expenses and more keep us from hosting them. We get too intimidated or overwhelmed and give up before we've even started.

Well not me. I'm on a mission to help people get back to a time where intimate gatherings and intentional conversation are the norm. Where guests feel known and welcomed and hosts feel energized and encouraged. And I would love nothing more than to make that happen for you and your gathering.

xo Katie

how it works...

This package is a start-to-finish event planning service!

This means we start by taking care of all the prep work and design for your intimate event. We'll come up with moodboards, determine must-haves, design invites, create custom playlists and more! All specifically catered to your event.

Then we'll work with your budget to get you the absolute most bang for your buck. We'll find all the best supplies and gather them together.

And to finish we'll be there day-of, to setup your event the way you always dreamed it would be. We'll take care of all the stylings and assemblings and create a stress-free atmosphere so you can enjoy your event.

From styling to logistics, we've got you covered!
